Our European inspired, contemporary door collection combines the high performance required for the severe Canadian weather with a range of glass and frame options that stand out from the crowd.

Made in Canada

The manufacturer is proud to build the product which combines European style, American practicality and Canadian durability. All the doors at our facility are manufactured using the highest grade of components to ensure resistance to the specific North American weather conditions, security and ease of maintenance.

We control all the aspects of manufacturing from sourcing the best quality materials in compliance with North American standards and employing highly experienced professionals to using the latest technology which improves the process of production from start to final assembly.

All of this guarantees that the doors our customers receive are of the highest quality. Our mission is to continuously grow and evolve the process of design and manufacture to meet the growing demand for innovation and durability when it comes to the top quality entry door systems in North America.

Our team of experts working alongside with each individual customer ensures that the customer is provided with in-depth explanation of the product and guarantees a smooth transition from the initial inquiry to the final transaction.

We attribute our success to understanding the current market conditions, the importance of professional approach when dealing with diverse customer needs and demands, hard work and holding ourselves to the highest workmanship standards.

Glazing Frame Options

Our European inspired door designs can be manufactured using either the contemporary CO PVC frame or the ultra-modern stainless steel SS frame.

Note: SS frame comes with a thermal 1-5/8″ glass unit overall thickness.
CO frame comes with a thermal 1″ glass unit overall thickness.
